

 Emperor*EmPad
Absorbent Dressing Pad

Combining a multilayer, highly absorbent cellulose pad with a water-resistant backing layer, EmPad can handle low to high exuding wounds while preventing strike-through and bacterial contamination. These dressings are ideal for various types of wound management, including fungating and surgical wounds, as well as leg, pressure, and foot ulcers.

In addition, a high level of padding softness and the ability to conform to body contours ensures patient comfort.

Absorbent wound pad with high fluid retention capacities.

Conformable to all body parts, allowing freedom of movement

Soft breathable fibre dressing ensuring patient comfort

Non strike-through and bacteria resistant backing
